

The MASTER PLAN of EVANGELISM

CHAPTER 7: SUPERVISION

1. After the disciples were sent out to work, they were expected to _____ their experiences later with the group.
2. Jesus would let His followers have some _____ or make some observation of their own, and then He would use this as a starting point to _____ a lesson of discipleship.
3. It is thus crucial that those engaging in the work of evangelism have personal _____ and guidance until such time as they are mature enough to carry on alone.

"We have not been called to hold the fort, but to storm the heights."

Discussion:

What do you do when a student does not steward the responsibility you have delegated? What does accountability look like?

How do you keep a disciple from becoming defeated and discouraged by the inevitable difficulties?

CHAPTER 8: REPRODUCTION

1. It did not matter how small the group was to start with so long as they _____ and taught their disciples to _____.
2. Practically _____ the Master said and did pointed to this principle.
3. The test of any work of evangelism is not what is seen at the moment, or in the conference report, but in the effectiveness with which the work continues in the _____.

"A barren Christian is a contradiction. A tree is known by its fruit."

Discussion:

Do your disciples know how to make more disciples? How do you disciple "transgenerationally," so that what you teach can be taught again?

Does your relationship change once your disciple joins you as a small group leader? If so, how?

EPILOGUE: THE MASTER AND YOUR PLAN

1. The Master gives us an _____ to follow, but He expects us to work out the details according to local circumstances and traditions.
2. If we are to train people, we must work for them. We must _____ them. We must _____ them. Above all, we must _____ for them.
3. Everything should be leading these chosen men and women to the day when they will assume by themselves a ministry in their own _____ of _____.

“The world is desperately seeking someone to follow. That they will follow someone is certain, but will that person be one who knows the way of Christ, or will he or she be one like themselves leading them only on to greater darkness?”

Discussion:

What have you taken away from The Master Plan of Evangelism? What has impacted you?
